

Testimonials from Carol's Clients

May 09, 2007

I have published three books with Dandelion Books (Living with Soul, volumes 1 & 2, and It's All About Control) and am delighted with their professionalism, attention to detail and willingness to work with authors. Carol Adler, the publisher, is a very easy person to work with and is dedicated to showcasing her authors' work on the Dandelion and other web sites, through book wholesalers and via a program of press releases.

Dandelion also uses cutting edge technology to present authors' works as e-books and is currently ramping up to a whole new set of e-book formats and outlets.

Tony Stubbs
Author, Book Production Expert
Radio Show Host
www.tjpublish.com

~ooOOoo~

The multi-talented Carol Adler, President of Dandelion Books, is so highly respected, gifted and knowledgeable that when I put a manuscript in her hands I know it will come back in ready to go condition. As a Professional Author of twelve books and counting with a busy speaking, training and writing career, I confess I don't have time for the painstaking wordsmithing or the patience to go over every little edit. With my work in Carol's capable hands I don't have to! I can confidently trust that my work (to the word!) will be perfectly turned out and polished to a very high standard. And that leaves me free to create the content I am purposeful and passionate about.

--Patricia Chamberlin
Author, Marketing Expert
Bio-Feedback Specialist, Entrepreneur
SuccessKey Publications, www.successkey.com

~ooOOoo~

Carol's the consummate pro and wonderful to work with. She did an outstanding job as a "book doctor" on one of my books (300+ pages), and edited 3.5 others...

When it comes to book doctoring and editing, Carol Adler is that rare breed of technician and artist. She has the uncanny ability to get inside the author's own thoughts and feelings, pull out what is essential, and convert what is (often!)

grammatical gibberish into powerful prose that reflects the author's unique individuality. I heartily recommend her for projects large and small, and tomes of all subject matter. Carol's awesome!

—Stephen Banick, MBA
Founder, The Gulliver Project, Inc.
Entrepreneur, Speaker, Catalyst
www.thegulliverproject.com , www.superglobalcareers.com
~ooOoo~

Thursday, May 31, 2007

Thank you, Carol. You have guided me to where I am today. One of these days I will discipline myself to really watch my punctuation. Don't give up on me. I WILL get around to it eventually!

Keep in touch. Carol I have never met anyone quite like you. You are truly unique.

—Sheila LeSeuer, Author
Retired R.N. (Jersey Isle born WWII Survivor)

~ooOoo~

I'd like to share my wonderful experience with Dandelion Press. I was referred to Carol Adler by Peter Shepherd of www.trans4mind.com. He is a European psychiatrist/therapist who runs several publications as well as a private practice and creating wellness and self help programs. Because I had come to respect him so immensely, I chose to contact Carol when I was ready to self-publish.

Carol is not only exceptionally well educated but reads people very well. Her writing expertise and business sense provided a marvelous backdrop for my first experience in this realm. An avid reader and publisher of a few short articles, I was a "babe in the woods" regarding the publishing arena. It's obvious that Carol has tremendous experiences in this arena.

Her marketing sense helped to hone my writings. Haha! Even though it's at times difficult to release the "baby" for suggestions by others, her ideas and rewrites - always with my permission - made my book most enjoyable and readable. My original drafts were a bit "haughty" and that wasn't my intention in communicating. Carol was able to "see" me and my personality... and when I felt a need to change things to be a bit more myself, she was super. I don't know how she manages to keep her own ego at bay - because of her tremendous skill and love of her field - but she does it with class!

Carol is a writer and I've read two of her novels. There is an ease in her style of writing... and that carries over to her dealings with people. She has depth of spirit, an uncanny awareness of humanity, and the ability to be generous. Carol is a true professional and today that is such a joy!

I have to admit that Carol's suggestions were the parts most enjoyed by friends, neighbors, and family with whom I shared my work. It has been such a grand feeling to have something of myself in written form in hardcopy. My daughters have enjoyed my humor, small takes on wisdom, and "hopeful" stance in my book. I would tell you quite candidly and with much enthusiasm that Carol Adler with her publishing house will be a wonderful step for you in fulfilling your own personal goals.

—Becky Ruff Reed
Author, Entrepreneur
www.reedpersonalassistant.com

~ooOOoo~

24 Jun 2007

As you must know the word "Cromaat" was and is the word that the mystery schools use to seal a wish or anything that was done...I always use it... I use it like I use so mot it be!! Or, is done!!!

... I know you were chosen to help me. I don't think, there are too many people in the publishing business who have the spiritual awareness that I can feel you have. That fact makes me feel good because I know you will enhance my story and not butcher it.

...I also want to tell you that I love the way you write... the easy way of expression in your narrations...

I have placed my trust in you and I know that you will do a great job. Not only because you are an experienced professional in these matters but also because I think you feel the same way I do.

I thank God for letting me to meet you, I would not feel comfortable If I had to be working with my story with someone else...

GOD BLESS YOU.

—Norma Pastor, Author
Entrepreneur, The Alchemist Group

~ooOOoo~

I checked with several self-publishing companies prior to signing with Dandelion Books. Since signing, I have been very pleased with Dandelion and Carol Adler in particular. She is honest, has been very helpful whenever I have questions, is always available, and has helped advertise my book. Since my book has been published, Feb. 2007, I have placed three orders which arrived within 7-10 days. A nice convenience is that I can order as many or as few books as I need. I would highly recommend Dandelion Books.

—Dolores Proiette, Certified Hypnotherapist

~ooOoo~

Carol... this is it. I know that God is in charge of Marrisingle, and you too....there isn't a day that goes by that I don't thank God for the opportunity to meet you. Even if we only sell one copy, the journey has been so worth it.

Wishing you the warmest blessing over Easter, love you, Brenda

Stretching the Wings of Change

I saw myself as a bird; my wings were ready to test the strongest wind now! One afternoon while reading the newspaper, my (third eye) picked out an announcement about a writing and publishing seminar that as to be given in the Phoenix area. "What do you think?" I turned to Randy, who was seated next to me, reading another section of the paper, "You know it always means something when a newspaper article pops right out at me! Should I take that Marrisingle journal to this seminar and see if it's worth pursuing? Get a professional opinion?"

Embracing my excitement, Randy encouraged me, "Yes, yes. Go, Brenda!"

Pulling into the parking lot, there it was again, that magical feeling of excitement that I was connecting with someone or something very special.

Three women introduced themselves and one in particular caught my eye. Shivers ran down my spine, with goose bumps quickly forming; I knew it was the connection to her. After a break in the presentation, I went outside and grabbed my typed manuscript. Before going inside again, I spoke to God: Well, here it is God, you've been pushing me, nagging me for awhile to get on with this, here I am, right where I am suppose to be, and I am giving to the right One. So I know from here, you'll take it where it's suppose to be, no hard feelings God, if it was just to reach me, I am ok with that too!

Eagerly I gave it over to the One. Smiling, I approached her, petite and very pretty, and she stood ready with a warm smile and outreached hand. "Hello, I'm Carol Adler, Dandelion Books."

It was if she was waiting for me. I introduced myself, explained the contents of my manuscript and where I was at, and asked if she would mind giving me her professional opinion.

Within several days, Carol called me back and we met. She told me how important Marrisingle could be, how helpful this book could be others. She urged me to tell my story because it would be valuable for others to know about my journey.

—Brenda Frantz
Professional Social Worker, Certified Hypnotherapist

Counselor, Professional Mediator
Author, Marrisingle: Growing From Chaos

~ooOOoo~

Sunday, April 29, 2007 12:14 PM

Carol,

You are so special, everything that I have read so far is spot on. Wow! I love the intro. I doubt that there will be that much to change. You have captured my words, my heart and it has brought tears to my eyes. You are an artist and I am in awe of your gifts!

You always make it fun for me and help me to relax and I am in awe of your gift.

—Ronna McEldowney
Professional Educator, Early Development Expert
<http://www.partnersinparenting.net/>

~ooOOoo~

Wednesday, October 3, 2007

(From a well-known investigative reporter)

Carol will be publishing my first hard copy book on XXXXX as well as helping me publish an e-book called XXXXX Carol has been working fiercely for her whole life for a free press and freedom of speech Thank you, Carol for all your hard work and your bravery.

—S. F.

~ooOOoo~

[After reading Naked in Daylight, Jesus & The Tooth Fairy, Arioso:]

Carol, your poems are magnificent. They are most thought-provoking and require time to read. Your life experiences provide insights and wisdom that is the property of very few people.

—John H. Brand, D.Min., J.D.
Author, Retired Minister, Business Executive

~ooOOoo~

It's hard to make good publishing decisions nowadays. I get so many compliments on the cover art and interior of both Dandelion-published books.

I told the group in clay Center that anyone wanting a book doctor, ghost writer, or quality publishing should contact Dandelion. Not everyone can afford to pay for such services, but those who can, should make good use of your expertise.

You are a gem of a woman, Carol Adler.

Much love,
Laurel

—Laurel Johnson
Author (The Alley of Wishes, My Name is Esther Clara)
Senior Reviewer, Midwest Book Review
<http://laureljohnsonblogs.blogspot.com/>

~ooOoo~

[From Dan Callahan, director of The Last Resort Panama, for whom Carol has been doing some ghostwriting and editing... Dan prefaced his newsletter article with a statement about Carol and then copied one of Carol's recent articles posted in on selfgrowth.com about anorexia/bulimia into the newsletter.]

"Yesterday I mentioned that I would be sharing info from two people that I respect and admire. I used the term credibility. When I think of Carol that is the term that comes to mind. She has a long list of successes to her career. When it comes to professionalism Carol stands above the rest of the field. Her insights are right on target."

Carol Adler has been nothing short of spectacular as a friend and advisor. I think Carol lives on her computer. I send an email within minutes I have an answer. Carol is the CEO of the publishing company Dandelion Books. You can look her up at www.dandelion-books.com Thank You Carol!

—Dan Callahan, Director, The Last Resort Panama
www.thelastresortpa.com

~ooOoo~

Friday, October 03, 2008 9:49 AM

...I'm just a few chapters in to reading your edits and I just have to stop and tell you what an outstanding job you have done. You totally get what I'm trying to convey and your use of words to better tell the story is fantastic. You actually brought tears to my eyes after reading the first chapter because I'm so excited that my thoughts are coming alive and I can see the future for this book. Thank you!

—Michelle Prince, Author, Human Potential Speaker
<http://www.coachmichelleprince.com/>

~ooOoo~

I feel very blessed that I have found you.

I can't tell you how many times over the past 20 years or so I have said, "Oh forget it! Who cares if I ever get this book written!" Yet every time something would happen that pulled me right back. Just last week I told my daughter that I was going to give it up. I told her I was tired of struggling alone to get it finished. I longed for someone who would see the value of what I had to offer. I needed someone else's faith because as Donne stated and I am paraphrasing "No man is an island unto himself." Yes, we all need someone to believe in us. That is why your desire to help me brought tears to my eyes and hope in my heart and a strong determination that this time I will get it done.

Your professional help is exactly what I needed.

Blessings,
Ann Jovicin, MA

"THE PRACTICAL PSYCHOTHERAPIST"
Psychotherapist - Seminar
Leader

LifeSuccess Consultant
Mastermind Group Coach
www.MySuccessStrategies.com

~ooOoo~

Sent: Thursday, October 09, 2008 8:44 AM

You are just too good to pass up, lol. I am going over my e-book and making some additions and corrections.

I also got a glimpse of all your other many talents and expertise. Wow!!!! an author, a poet, a hypnotherapist, a publisher. Is there anything you can't do??? I am looking forward to doing business with you Carol.

Take care,

Rhonda Rabow, B.A., F.L.E., MA.

~ooOoo~

November 19, 2008

Dear Carol,

Today I'm working on getting Heaven News together, and in the process I started reading your free ebook, Writers, Authors, and Dreamweavers.

Carol, I am so often turned off by what I read, but what you wrote turned me on. I am so impressed I could just hug you. You have validated many things I needed to hear validated:

- Analyze for Technique Only
- Aim for the Heart
- Emotional Energy
- Passion

I love your writing altogether, and the words you choose: Dish Pan Gold, Elbow Grease Club... The true stories you tell, your quotes – perfect. I wish I had the ads you use when I was teaching school! I haven't read it to the end yet, Carol, but, believe me, I got the gold.

Loving you, Gloria

—Gloria Wendroff, Godwriter™ The Godwriting™ International Society of Heaven
www.heavenletters.org and www.godwriting.org

~ooOoo~

When Carol edits or does anything on a book, the book is an example of perfection in the works.

—Most respectfully,
Tuklo Nashoba
Author of Waaaay Out There and The Arbuckle Treasure Hunt
<http://www.dandelion-books.com/werewolf-fiction.html>

~ooOoo~

From the HeavenLetters.org Blog:

Dr. Chuck Gebhardt volunteered to focus on putting together 7-book Heavenletters for us. Chuck is a master at picking out 7 powerful Heavenletters on a single topic that go great with each other. Chuck worked on grief, purpose, relationships, as I remember.

Yet, as good as these books were, something was missing, but what? Then Carol Adler came to the rescue. Carol is a long-time Heavenreader and Godwriter from Phoenix. In a very few minutes, Carol helped me to see what I simply had been unable to see for myself.

Carol made three major solid points. In her instant insights, Carol got me to see a whole new way, and her insights uplifted and inspired me.

Here is the gist of what Carol said and the three mistakes I was making:

1. Heavenletters are great works of art, and they stand on their own. Great works of art do not need any explaining. The energy from Heavenletters is multi-dimensional and quantum. The energy from explaining is twodimensional and flat. Explanations cannot come anywhere close to God's words. Leave commentary out. Great works of art do not need any explaining. Explaining becomes clutter.
2. Gloria, you have been compiling books on subjects. Life is never about topics or subject matter. Life is always about PEOPLE!
3. By compiling books on isolated subjects rather than on the person, in this case, the person who has experienced a deep loss and who is grieving, you have been limiting what Heavenletters you can include and the help that the book can give. There are SO many Heavenletters on varied topics that will inspire people who are grieving, topics such as gratitude, love, freedom, etc.

Then Carol, genius that she is, showed me what to do and how to do it:

She said: Focus on a person going through grieving. Then re-read the HeavenLetters randomly, and the right ones will choose themselves.

The right ones will choose themselves! How I love this!

Doesn't God all the time in Heavenletters tell us to follow our hearts? And here I have been, struggling to put His books together, using my objective left brain to choose the Heavenletters when, all the while, I could be using my heart, be happy, and just take Heavenletters that feel right for those who are mourning. And which one of us isn't mourning when we come right down to it?

Now I see I had trying to take the beautiful Infinite and squeeze it into a tight, logical, and finite box where it couldn't fit.

Thanks, Carol.

Gloria Wendroff, www.heavenletters.org

~ooOOoo~

A client's relative was helping the client with the pre-press aspects of her book after I had book doctored it. I gave them suggestions and advice. Here was the relative's comment to her client that the client wanted me to read:

"I like Carol - she's positive and upbeat and she always seems to have a new adventure she's working on. You know how you talk about synchronicity in the book - i think it was synchronicity that you found Carol!"

— m

~ooOOoo~

Hello Carol,

It was such a privilege and a pleasure to listen to you and meet you that day at the Rancho Mirage Library - you have such vibrant enthusiasm for the art of writing and I knew instantly as you said your first few sentences that you are a woman I could potentially work with.

Thank you so much for your time, and your wonderful talk this last Saturday - you are most inspirational, and I thoroughly enjoyed listening to you and meeting you.

Sincerely,
Sayward Ayre

~ooOOoo~

This is written from Guru.com as a private note to me after I placed a bid for this project. Included I my bid were several writing samples:

You go, girl! I am impressed by your accomplishments and true talent. I admire your combination of creativity with business savvy, something I need in my own business.

[Here, Claudia placed a description of her project.]

It would be honor to work with you. Keep up the great work and until I hear from you, I send you a big hug from Southern California, —Claudia C.

~ooOOoo~

[Maria Woelfl was born in Rumania; she knew no English when she came to this country at age 15 and was unable to attend school. I edited her autobiography. Here is her (unedited) email to me when I sent her the completed work for her to review]:

On Tue, Mar 22, 2011 at 4:23 PM, mariarwoelfl xxxxxxxxxxx@xxxx wrote:

Hi Carol, thank you, you did a great job only a few changes. I crier [cried] readied [reading] the ending of the manuscript It is a wonderful story. I made another boo boo when I scanned the photos i didn't save them the way they should have been saved so I have to do it over. I wrote the acknowledgement and dictations.[dedication]

Thanks for you wonderful work here I go Maria

~ooOOoo~

Virginia Hummel

[I edited Virginia's autobiographical account of the death of her son and communication afterward.]

Acknowledgment Page: Carol Adler: When I needed a fresh set of eyes, Spirit dropped you in my lap. You read my mind. Thank you.

Email from Virginia:

Dear Carol,

I can't thank you enough for the wonderful job you did editing my book and on such short notice too! You seemed to know exactly what it needed and did it with such finesse it was as if you could read my mind. Your spiritual background was the perfect accompaniment to your wonderful ability to edit. When I needed a fresh set of eyes spirit dropped you in my lap! Thank you again for all your help.

Sincerely,

Virginia

Virginia Michelle Hummel
Author and Publisher

StarChild10 Publications (760)
285-0597 Direct
www.MiracleMessenger.comHi Carol,

~ooOOoo~

[The following is an email from a client, "Sheila," who had just received a book doctored research piece that I completed for her. Sheila gave me several fragments of research in the form of documents that had to be reordered, rewritten and combined to create a single coherent piece. This email is her response to my work.]

THANK YOU

Inbox x

Sheila

4:22 PM (25 minutes ago)

to info [info@caroladler.com]

This afternoon I sat down and quietly read the Mary Mottley piece. Carol your graceful writing skills embrace the material.

There is no way I could have come close. I can imagine the family crowding around, all of them wondering, what we. in the 21st Century think of them.

The readers will love Mary as they come to know her.

Yes, it was a lot of work but it will stand the time.

I am in your debt forever. Sheila.

~ooOOoo~

The following is a personal testimonial that I would like to add to this list because this it was written by one of my clients. At the beginning of January, 2012, I met with this woman who contracted me to do an advanced edit for her second work of non-fiction [I tutored her through the process of writing the first book and did the final edit for that work.] She is a very gifted shaman [healer] and teacher. During our January meeting, we enjoyed a wonderful conversation, after which she sent me the following email:

Good morning Carol,

As I sat early this morning contemplating on yesterday.....the things you shared with me about yourself, the words you used were symbols to me of where you are....you are a genius!! You are what I call "superconsciousness."

I saw in you a mirror of who I am also; without a doubt, we all are to each other a mirror. You brought to me a "symbol" of where I am today...you have helped me by bringing clarity to self.

You are an "imageless" being....a "changed" being.....we seem to be on the same page. I want to thank you for being a symbol of truth to me.

I too am an artist in understanding symbols.....they do not only appear to me but they "pull me in" and tell me so much! I will write a lot more in the days to come.....you knew this, right?

You are a very important aspect of my life, Carol....tell me all you know that I need to hear from you.

Love,

XXX

~ooOOoo~

This testimonial is from one of my 2012 clients who published a book with Dandelion. Pre-press production involved editing and considerable detail work—more than usual. This is from my client:

Carol, we are so blessed to have you work with us on this! [Who else would put up with us?]

Thank you for your patience, kindness and understanding.

In love & light,

Tanya & Ingri

July 19, 2012

~ooOOoo~

This is a testimonial from a graduate student in the MIT MBA Entrepreneurial Program. He asked me to edit a technical article.

July 2012

Mo Hussain

[email address]

Hi Carol,

Thanks for the quick turn around on this - I really like the final version - amazing work! :)

~ooOOoo~

A polished writer with a degree in Creative Writing contacted me to edit her juvenile fiction works after I read her proposal and sent her a bid for the project.

I was delighted that she chose to work with me. Here is her response to my acceptance email:

"I'm very excited as well! I knew you were the right person the minute I started reading your bid, plus I also recognized your name...you're not in the shadows, you know? LOL"

~ooOOoo~

From Susan L. – I ghostwrote a book for her and I am now helping her selfpublish and market it.

October 11, 2012

Carol, I must tell you that you have been so valuable on this project to me and I feel that you are a gift in my life.

With Love,

Susan

~ooOOoo~

*From Cari Morgan – www.tall-tales.com
October 12, 2012*

"It is very difficult to choose only 3 attributes to describe Carol's professionalism and quality of work. I hired Carol (Dandelion Books, LLC) to edit my children's book. She not only has the ability to implement amazing ideas; but she also knew just after one phone call exactly what characteristics to apply to my text during the editing process. In my view, the most impressive part of her work was that she gave my book the 'personality and voice' I was looking for.

"I will definitely re-hire Carol to edit the rest of my book series. I also thank you, Carol, for all the advice and information you provided me to help me gain the confidence I need to self-publish!"

~ooOOoo~

The following testimonial is extracted from the Dedication page of Farida Mila Nazari's book, The Place Where The Light Enters, that will be published by Dandelion Books in 2013. Farida was born and raised in Afghanistan; her father was the mayor of one of the larger cities. She managed to escape to the U.S. in the late Seventies when the Russians invaded and slaughtered millions of Afghani government leaders and intellectuals. When she arrived in the U.S. she knew no English, although her literary background was already extensive and she was very well educated. Farida was determined to write books in English. I book doctored her first work and prepared it for publication.

"Last but not least, I dedicate this book to my editor and publisher, lovely kind Carol Adler, who with her excellent abilities for comprehending my writing, helped me bring forth this work. She is a person who understands the language of others and who also grasps the harsh reality and pain of war. I am grateful that she was always only 'a phone call away.'"

~ooOOoo~

A LinkedIn endorsement message after Pett Corby endorsed me:

Pett Corby has sent you a message.

Date: 12/17/2012

Hey Carol,

Ever so happy to hear from you!

You are most welcome for the endorsement. You are one of the few people I can endorse with all my sincerity. You are amazing at what you do.

~ooOOoo~

April, 2013

Lewis Heller, M.D. – Book I doctored: Results Not Typical

"Carol was a lifesaver for my book. I had written my book and spent a year with another editor who just could not get the job done. Carol brilliantly added the organization, polish and shine that made a huge difference in the final product. Don't waste time looking for an editor. Carol will do an amazing job for you. I have already started working on my second book and I know that one will be a success as well with her assistance.

"Be well,

Lewis Heller MD, MBA, CHt. - Lewisheller@me.com"

~ooOOoo~

From Donald Tucker, former U.S. Marshal, U.S. Secret Service Agent and U.S. Federal Bureau of Narcotics Agent, for whom I just ghostwrote a fiction novel (August 15, 2013):

Donald Tucker xxxxxxxx@cox.net
August 15, 2013

7:59 PM (16 hours ago)

to me

Carol, I just want to say you have outdone yourself. The revision that you have made are outstanding and I couldn't be more pleased. I think we have something very good, special and should make a tremendous statement. I only had a few comments to share. Very, very pleased!! Let's talk later.

D

~ooOOoo~

In 2013, Dandelion Books (my publishing company) brought forth After the Bell, by World Champion Boxer Paul Vaden. When the manuscript came to me, it needed considerable work. I proceeded to "doctor" and rewrite it. Here's a comment from Paul Vaden:

Carol, I get these emails and Facebook chat notes along this rhythm endlessly. Inspiring and motivating to keep reaching:

Hello Champ- Hope all is well. Just finished ATB and the book is AWESOME. Very inspiring and you teach us all the power of Perseverance and not giving up!! Chapter 18- The Hunger to Achieve delivered a powerful message to me- It highly motivated me to be the best I can Be..I may have been knocked down, but I Will Get up Stronger!! If you ever speak somewhere open for the public, please let me know. I would enjoy listening to your Powerful words!! Thanks very much Champ--keep on Keeping on..

~ooOOoo~

The following testimonial is more personal. In 1975, my first book of poetry was published by Pentagram Press. The lead poem, "Arioso," was also the title of the book, Arioso. The collection is now available through Dandelion Books as part of a larger collection of my selected poetry (Arioso: Selected Poems, by Carol Adler. Dandelion Books, 2010). Pulitzer Prize winning composer, Joseph Schwanter, wrote a wind ensemble piece that uses the imagery of "Arioso" as well as one line of my poem as the title of his work.

On February 1, 2014, a college music student wrote to me and asked permission to quote the poem, "Arioso," in his thesis.

Email:
Erick Vonsas
Feb 1 (1 day ago)

Ms. Adler,

I appreciate your quick response! The excerpt I want to use is as follows:

arioso bells sepia
moon-beams
an afternoon sun blanked by rain and the mountains rising nowhere the sound returns

the sound and the silence chimes
My thesis is a comparative analysis of three works for the wind ensemble, including Joseph Schwantner's ...and the mountains rising nowhere. There is so much imagery in these words that I had to include them. Thank you for your permission.

All the Best,

Erick

~ooOOoo~

From one of my earliest clients, Sheila LeSeuer, who is now 86 years young and writing a new book. She's contracted me as a tutor and editor. On a recent invoice I sent her, she returned it with her check and this note:

"Carol, you are a special gift to me. I truly appreciate you."

—S

~ooOOoo~

October 2015

From Dr. Mary Kay Stenger, RN, CHT, Ph.D., for whom I am book doctoring and editing several books:

I sat down and reviewed the book. WOW, you have done a great job speaking for me better than I can for myself. Pretty obvious you are one of the angels sent to me. Thank you, thank you.

~ooOOoo~

From Robert O'Connor, CHT:

Carol Adler is one the finest human beings I know. She has skill sets to put many to shame. A Highly Compassionate Devotee towards the betterment of Man/Womankind. There is virtually no stone left unturned as she prepares to magically turn your manuscript into a Masterpiece. Take advantage of this genius while she is between Adventures...

~ooOOoo~

July 30, 2016

From Max Lightbender, Lightbender Art Studios (Idyllwild CA):

YOU RIPPED MY HEART OPEN WIDE!

Carol... i have almost finished with my Idyllwild Gallery and Studio... Today some of the very last, very late, extensions of [the] gallery were made complete. Many blocks on this journey and I hung in....

Tonight they [helpers] hung a old giclee [def. - a technology for fine art or photograph reproduction using a high-quality inkjet printer to make individual copies] i made of your bio and my gallery I made years ago

Carol when i walked in and saw that Giclee and tried to read as if it was the first time..... I buckled at the the knees at your verbiage. I am not the talented one here.... YOU ARE CAROL!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

More Comments

"I'm so glad we met. You are an amazing person and a good friend. Thank you for all you do."

—Tina Martin, Dandelion Author

~ooOOoo~

"To Carol, my incarnation of the Shekina—the first manifestation of the manifesting power.

In the cave of Cronos
Beneath a falling star
Time forever glimmers
Yet cometh from afar.

To deny the ancient origin
And doddle on the way
Is never to appreciate
What masters have to say.

—Fr. Charles Moore"

~ooOOoo~

From a writer who consulted with me: "Thanks so much... just the nudge I needed to move past my fear and keep going. Thanks again for being so encouraging . You really do know how to ignite passion in people for doing what they love.... I am so excited to work with you and I will be sending lots of people your way! Finding You is part of my story of breaking free from years of feeling unworthy and a deep fear of sharing my voice with the world...I felt so happy after I met with you! Love, Judy" [the issue was writers' block, which we solved]

~ooOOoo~

Comments from a client regarding a story I wrote that I sent him: "I can see your heart in your writing and it is good." -J

Note: I concluded this testimonial document in the early part of 2018.